Together, we build what capital
alone cannot create.

The problem

Why startups in critical tech fail — even with funding

Too many tech startups fail — not because they lack ideas, but because they lack strong cofounders, operational guidance, and long-term support.

Capital without Commitment

VCs provide capital, not execution. They fund, but don't build — leaving founders alone when decisions matter most.

Speed over Substance

Most funds push for growth at any cost. Deep tech requires time, but investors want quick returns.

Founders Left Isolated

On attend des fondateurs qu'ils sachent tout faire : lever, recruter, exécuter... mais sans cofondateur solide ni accompagnement stratégique.

No Room for Error

Critical sectors can't afford mistakes. In cybersecurity, quantum, or sovereign infrastructure, execution is everything.

Our approach

Who we are

Founded in the United States in 2006, McCann Perkins is an internationally oriented startup studio, born from the belief that great companies are not built with money alone, but with committed allies.

After more than 15 years working alongside bold entrepreneurs, we chose to establish ourselves in Canada to contribute to the rise of sovereign, sustainable, and strategic innovation — driven by a model rooted in co-creation and human capital.

We are not a fund: we don't deploy cash, but rather operational and technological expertise essential to turning solid ideas into antifragile companies.

Our promise

What you can't afford to hire, we bring to the table as co-founders.

At McCann Perkins, we believe the best companies are born from trust, hard work, and uncompromising support.

Strategic mind

Not detached advice. Seasoned C-level executives (CEO, CTO, CISO...) actively involved in your key decisions, week after week.

Strong foundations

Legal structuring, governance, operational models, technical architecture everything it takes to build a company that lasts.

Hands-on team

Not mission-based consultants. Trusted experts who commit for the long term because they believe in your project.

Key partners

A selective network of entrepreneurs, industrial partners, and institutions. Targeted introductions never random.

Who we work with

Our studio is built for those who want to build seriously not chase trends.

01 Ambitious founders

You have a bold vision and unique expertise, but limited resources to structure, secure, and launch your project? That's exactly what we're here for.

02 Spin-offs and business pivots

Coming out of a lab, a company, or an abandoned project? Ready to move to the "real company" stage? We help you lay the foundation.

03 Corporate partners

Looking to get involved in innovation differently? Willing to invest your time, skills, or resources? We give you access to a qualified, structured dealflow.

04 Discerning investors

Looking for serious, supported, and vetted projects from day one? McCann Perkins is a rigorous selection gateway. We only present what truly stands.

Vision

At McCann Perkins, we believe in a different kind of capital one that isn't measured in numbers, but in commitment, presence, and impact. Human capital that rare time, critical expertise, and unwavering alignment is now the most valuable resource for building strong companies.

We've chosen to build a clear model: a startup studio that works alongside founders from day one, to build seriously with discipline, with depth, without compromise. We don't bet on ideas. We invest in the ability to make them real, resilient, and ready.

Co-create, execute, grow together. Because no one should have to build alone.

Mission

01 We support committed entrepreneurs from the very first steps, co-founding ambitious, purposeful, and resilient startups with them. Our studio brings together the strategic, technical, and operational expertise needed to turn strong ideas into sustainable companies.

02 We're not here to multiply projects, but to build with rigor, care, and high standards. Every collaboration is a partnership built on trust, grounded in real involvement and deep alignment around values, goals, and execution.

03 Our mission is to open a different path to entrepreneurship collective, responsible, and human-centered. A model to create, together, the kind of companies this era demands.

Our method

Our approach is built around the proprietary Dual Loop method — a two-step strategy designed to turn opportunities into viable startups.

Deep Dive

This first phase focuses on identifying concrete use cases based on real-world needs. It ensures that each project is grounded in industrial reality, with a validated market potential and a well-understood technological feasibility.

Fast Forge

In this second loop, we transform an idea into a prototype in record time. By leveraging hybrid classical/quantum tools and pilot partners, we accelerate proof of usefulness and drastically shorten incubation cycles.
